

South Lanarkshire Disability Sport

Membership Benefits

SLDS is a voluntary organisation with a responsibility to promote interest and participation in sport for people with disabilities within South Lanarkshire. SLDS is a member branch of Scottish Disability Sport (SDS) who are the governing body of sport for athletes and players with a physical, sensory, or learning disability. Membership of SLDS is open and free to any South Lanarkshire school, club or individual.

There are a number of benefits of affiliating to SLDS, these include:

1. Access to SLDS Grant Aid funding scheme and other sources of funding
2. In conjunction with South Lanarkshire Culture and Leisure (SLCL), access to local and regional events across a range of sports
3. A co-ordinated approach to enter Scottish Disability Sport National events as part of a SLDS branch team
4. Access and information about local, regional, and national Coach Education and Training courses and disability CPD opportunities
5. Sharing of good practice across members (individuals, schools, and clubs)
6. Representation at SLDS annual and six-monthly meetings.
7. An opportunity to promote your club, your volunteers, and athletes through the SLDS communication channels
8. An annual awards dinner that recognises the excellent work and achievements across South Lanarkshire
